ICHA Newsletter January 2018

Following the December 3 meeting, the ICHA board of directors held two more meetings in December to nail down futurity plans for 2018. We are excited to announce the new dates for the futurity show. It is moving to Labor Day weekend, August 31-September 3 at National Cattle Congress in Waterloo, Iowa. The schedule will change with the addition of three weekend shows to be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday. A fresh practice in the show arena for the futurity horses will be held on Friday, following the first weekend show. Monday will be the finals only for the futurity, derby and classic classes. Did we mention FREE parking? Mark your calendars and watch for details.

Our first NCHA Challenger Series Show, scheduled for January 6, had to be cancelled due to our extreme low temperatures we were all not enjoying as the calendar clicked into 2018. Our first show now will be on Saturday, February 3 at Kirchner Cutting Horses in Clarinda. We will hold our annual banquet, membership meeting and election that evening at the Ice House in Clarinda. Watch the website and Facebook for details but get it marked on your calendars! We intend to offer more Challenger Series shows this year, as it seems our members enjoy the shows.

Travis and Vanette Grover will host our St. Patrick's Day NCHA Challenger Series Cutting at their place in Cresco on Saturday, March 17. Details are on our website.

Congratulations to these Iowans finishing in the Top 15 NCHA 2017 Regional Challenger Series for Region 3:

ICHA RON MCCARTY MEMORIAL GREENHORN STANDINGS as of December 31, 2017

The Ron McCarty Memorial Greenhorn class gives beginner cutters a chance to gain experience and confidence as they progress. Once they reach 20 cumulative points, they are awarded the McCarty Buckle and graduate out of eligibility. Once you've entered the McCarty Greenhorn class you are eligible to show in it until you point out. The McCarty Greenhorn class is a $15.00 cattle charge class only, with no entry fee/no payback. Riders earn one point each time they show (ride into the herd) in the class plus points are awarded as if NCHA payback was used.

Classes held at NCHA Championship Shows will earn double points credit.*
